Invite nature inside

- Normann Copenhagen presents the Slice Table, designed by Hans Hornemann

Normann Copenhagen launches a classic, beautiful table in soap-treated oak with an exquisite finish. Great attention has been paid to the details in order to create a completely aesthetic design that is both timeless and harmonic.

The natural interaction is emphasised in the rustic table top, where each plank accentuates the grain of the wood and its structure and brings the design alive. The uniform surface is broken up by openings between the planks, giving lightness to the design. The hardness and durability of the material make it extremely suitable for use as a table. At the same time, oak is a light coloured material that fits in beautifully with a Scandinavian decor.

Slice is ideal for use as a dining table in the kitchen or living room, as an alternative to a writing desk in the office or for use in restaurants.
